Bridges Given 12 Years By Jury On Charge

BY TROY MARTIN

Richard Dean Bridges drew 12 years in prison late Tuesday night after being convicted by a Randall County jury of six men and six women on a charge of selling marijuana.

Bridges, who had asked for probation, took the verdict calmly and then told newsmen that if all other charges against him were dropped he would be willing to forego an appeal.

"If they'll drop all the other charges I'm ready to settle for the 20 years and get started," the 23-year-old Bridges declared.

Bridges already is under conviction in Potter County on a charge of selling LSD, lysergic acid which is a hallucinatory drug.

Bridges drew eight years on the Potter County conviction. Judge Don Dean has said he has not yet decided whether to make the Potter and Randall County sentences run concurrently or consecutively.

Defense Counsel Bob Carnahan of Amarillo already has given notice of appeal on the Potter County conviction and said he would take the 10 days allowed in making a decision as to whether to appeal the Randall County verdict.

Bridges has two other narcotics cases pending against him--one in Potter County and another in Randall County. He also faces Potter County charges of receiving and concealing stolen property.

The youthful defendant maintained a friendly attitude toward the prosecution throughout the two-day trial which began Monday morning in 181st District Court.

Before leaving the court room Tuesday night flanked by officers he shook hands with District Attorney George Dowlen and his assistant, Mike Hinton.

"I got fair treatment," he told the DA, "fairer than I got in Amarillo."

The father, R. H. Bridges of 4800 Parker, Amarillo, even begged Dowlen to move to Potter County.

Talking to newsmen Bridges discounted the seriousness of the offense with which he was charged. He said he thinks marijauna will be legal in Texas before long.

"I raised some good children," said Dean's mother, fatigued from two long days in the court room. "Dean just got off wrong after he lost his wife and little girl."

Bridges was separated and later divorced from his wife, Becky. They have a 4-year-old daughter.

Becky, 21, was the only character witness to testify as to Dean's good character. She said he was a good father to their daughter and paid child support promptly.

Then under questioning by the district attorney she admitted that she divorced him because he beat her.

In his bid for probation, Bridges heard witness after witness including one called by the defense reply emphatically, "Bad," when asked about Dean's reputation.

The jury took 1 hour and 35 minutes to find Bridges guilty. During that period it returned to the court room once to hear portions of testimony read from the record.

The jury retired at 5:35 Tuesdy afternoon and brought its guilty verdict at 7:10.

The jury was taken to dinner and then went into session at 9:37 to decide the penalty and reached its decision on 12 years in prison at 10:45.

Bridges was one of 16 arrested Jan. 16 on narcotics charges in a police net thrown out as a result of an investigation by Mrs. Carolyn Carrlson Cox, 23, petite Randall County deputy sheriff and undercover agent for the Amarillo Police Department.

The defendant was charged with having sold marijuana to Mrs. Cox on Dec. 12, 1969 in South Amarillo in Randall County.

Bridges contended that he acted only as the delivery boy in the transaction, made no profit and was only doing Mrs. Cox a favor to help her out of a financial jam.

On the witness stand Bridges testified that he did not sell marijuana to Mrs. Cox and that in fact, he had never sold narcotics to anyone.

The state introduced into evidence five lids or bags of marijuana alleged to have been sold to Mrs. Cox by Bridges. These were identified as marijuana by Bill Dunn, Amarillo chemist.

The prosecution hinged its case on testimony of Mrs. Cox and Gary Hester, 19, former Canyon High School football player, who told the jury he sold narcotics supplied by Bridges.

Carnahan based his defense on the entrapment rule founded at least partly on alleged sexual misconduct of the pretty undercover agent whom Bridges said he had known as a swinging Tascosa High School senior.

Mrs. Cox was first to take the witness stand Monday.

She told of having moved to Amarillo from Big Spring last September and having been hired by Amarillo Police Chief Wiley Alexan-

Incumbents, Doctor Elected

The largest vote in Canyon history was recorded Tuesday as two incumbents and a local physician were elected to fill positions on the Canyon City Commission.

Elected mayor for a two-year term was Dr. J. Manly Bryan. Re-elected to positions on the city commission were Jim Christopher and H.R. Fulton.

Bryan had been opposed by Bernard Warren. Christopher was opposed by Floyd Kiser, and Fulton had been opposed by Dean Schaeffer.

From the very opening of the polls Tuesday morning, veteran election-watchers could predict a record vote. During the first hour of balloting, more than 80 persons voted. During the first hour last year, slightly more than 50 persons had voted.

The Tuesday vote exceeded last year's municipal voter turnout by 40 per cent.

Total votes cast Tuesday were 1,146. Total votes cast in last year's election were 834. Last year's election turnout was a record, exceeding by 200 the previous record of just over 600 in 1968.

The record number was about half of the registered voters in the city.

Long lines formed at the city hall annex just before the polls closed at 7 p.m. Tuesday and several would-be voters were turned away after 7 p.m.

More than half the record vote came after 3 p.m. Only 541 persons had cast ballots by 3 p.m.

Bryan received 612 votes to capture the mayoral seat. His opponent, Warren, received 521 votes. The mayoral race was the closest in this year's municipal contests.

In the commissioners' races, Fulton tallied 691 votes to defeat Schaeffer, who received 436.

Christopher received 760 votes to defeat Kiser, who tallied 373.

Two write-in votes were recorded--one for Walter Shelly and one for Gilbert Irlbeck.

Fourteen persons voted absentee in the election.

In a special meeting following the election, the city commission canvassed the returns and approved them.

A special meeting will be held at 8 a.m. Monday for swearing-in of new office-holders.

Mayor Paul Lindsey, who did not seek re-election this year, said he feels recent publicised personnel problems in the Canyon Police Department dealt in the larger voter turnout.

But, he said he feels the overwhelming return to office of Fulton and Christopher is, in effect, a vote of confidence for the commission.

The police department has been the scene of recent resignations and firings. Charges have been levelled at the chief of police.

Overpass Nearing Reality

BY CARROLL WILSON

The Texas Highway Commission has informally approved construction of an overpass spanning U.S. 87 at Hunsley Road.

The commission has also approved the closing of the median on the highway to prohibit traffic on Hunsley Road from crossing U.S. 87.

The commission met April 1 following a presentation by a Randall County delegation. The delegation had asked that an overpass be built over U.S. 87 at the intersection and that the median be closed until that time.

J.C. Dingwall, state highway engineer, said in a letter to County Judge Carroll Brown dated April 1 that the commission met later that day and discussed the Randall County requests.

"They have acted favorably on your request for the interchange on U.S. Highway 60 & 87 at Hunsley Road and a minute order will be prepared for their action at their next meeting," the letter states.

Chili Smith, district highway engineer, said the letter, in effect, means the commission "is going to give them the overpass."

The minute order to be acted upon by the commission is simply authorization by the commission for the district engineer to begin plans for construction of an overpass and the purchase of right-of-way.

Smith said, however, the minute order will not include any provision for funding of the overpass.

He said the construction of the overpass could probably not be initiated immediately. It would have to wait for funding under the commission's consolidated program funds.

Dingwall's letter states that the commission "is also agreeable to removing the cross-over (at the U.S. 87 Hunsley Road intersection) but is leaving the judgement as to the timing of its removal up to our district engineer, Mr. Smith."

Smith said this means the north-south median running down the center of U.S. 87 can be closed to through traffic from Hunsley Road.

But, he said, he will not make any decision on when the median will be closed until he has again talked with the Randall County Commissioners Court.

He said he will ask commissioners whether they wish to have the median closed immediately or wait until an overpass structure is completed spanning the highway entirely.

A third and integral part of the Randall County proposal to the highway commission on April 1 was the future designation of an eastward extension of Hunsley Road to Washington Street as a Farm to Market project.

Dingwall's letter also mentions this proposal.

". . .the Commission has instructed that this project be reviewed by our district

Women's Chamber Gets Underway

Mrs. Edith Nicholas was elected president of the Women's Division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

She heads a slate of officers elected for the newly-organized division.

Other officers include Lorene Olson, first vice president; Lila Vars, second vice president; Shirley Donnell, secretary; and Martha Warren, treasurer.

The officers, along with Joe Carroll Lindsey and Ocoee Holt, will act as the board of directors for the women's division.

Tuesday night's meeting was the final step in a weeks-long organizational process for the women's division. Thirty-six women attended the meeting and approved by-laws.

The board of directors will meet on the first Tuesday of each month to coordinate activities of the six division committees. General membership meetings will be held quarterly.

Committee chairmen named were Mrs. Betty Knowles, beautification; Betty Markham, hospitality; Lee Reeves, banquet and decorations; Lila Vars, membership; Charlene Carr, fine arts; and Virginia Cotten, public affairs.

Those attending the meeting heard a report from Mrs. Margaret Harper concerning the regular chamber of commerce's drive for funds to finance three major

Jay Findley Places First During Fair

Jay Findley's earth and space division entry in the 13th annual Texas Panhandle Science Fair in Amarillo came home with first place in that division of the elementary contests during the week end.

Findley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Findley, is a fifth grade student at Rex Reeves Elementary School. His exhibit shows the construction and use of a simple cloud chamber. He is a homeroom student of Kay Cates and entered the fair in Amarillo under the direction of Bryce Slack.

Three other students from Canyon Public Schools received honorable mention in the elementary section of the fair including Elliott Berry who entered the zoology department, Howard Drake in the physics division and Kathy Adkins in the medicine and health division.

Both Berry and Drake are

Directors of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce complained Monday night of the service, food and accommodations provided by Saga Food for the annual chamber banquet and talked of having next year's fete catered.

"It was completely and utterly embarrassing to me," said board member Dean House.

House suggested a formal letter of complaint about Saga's handling of the banquet be written to the company's headquarters in California. His motion, however, died for lack of a second.

"It was as poorly arranged a deal as I ever saw in my life," he said.

Policemen Seek Formal Hearing

Two Canyon policemen discharged by Police Chief Calvin Costley have asked for a formal hearing before the city commission.

Former Police Lieutenant Gary Harvey and former Sergeant Dean Butcher submitted a formal request to City Manager Howard Northcutt about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mayor Paul Lindsey at noon Wednesday said he would not take any action on the request until after he talks to Mayor-elect Manly Bryan.

"It is my intent to talk to Doctor Bryan," said Mayor Lindsey. "I will have to work within what he thinks should be done. It is evident that I couldn't get much done by Monday."

Dr. Bryan was elected mayor of Canyon in city elections held Tuesday. He is slated to take office next Monday. Next regular meeting of the city commission is scheduled April 16.

Harvey said he and Butcher probably will retain counsel to plead their case before the commission.

Costley said he dismissed Harvey and Butcher for disloyalty and for not doing their jobs.

The two discharged officers said they lost their

Price May Seek Funds For Helium Facilities

Rep. Bob Price may appear before President Nixon's staff in the near future and request funds from the executive budget to operate a West Texas State University helium research facility for three years.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSU, said Monday he was told by representative of Price's Washington office that Price hopes to go before the staff and request some funding from the executive budget.

Meetings with Washington officials set for Monday and Tuesday were postponed late last week when it was learned that Dr. Emmitt Smith, WTSU vice president for research and development, was to undergo surgery.

Dr. Smith had traveled to Washington earlier to confer with Department of Interior representatives about moving Amarillo's helium research facility to the WTSU campus.

He was to meet with various governmental agencies Monday and Tuesday to discuss financing of the current research projects on the WTSU campus.

Dr. Cornette said Price may go before the president staff after he receives a letter requesting the research equipment and temporary use of the research facilities from WTSU.

He said the letter is being prepared. It will seek the research equipment after the Amarillo facility is disbanded June 30.

It will also seek the building housing the research on a temporary basis.

The Department of Interior announced in February it would discontinue funding the Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers said Sunday he feels he is gaining on Gov. Preston Smith and should be able to beat the incumbent governor in the November election.

Eggers, who was defeated in his bid for the governor's seat in 1968, was honoree at a reception Sunday at the Hunsley Hills Club. The reception was hosted by Mrs. Francis Fatheree, former Republican committeewoman from this area.

The candidate cited several polls taken recently

Umbarger School Will Remain Open

Umbarger School will remain open for students one more school year, if enrollment continues at its present level, the Canyon School Board decided Tuesday night.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said members of the former Umbarger School Board met with the Canyon board and requested the school be allowed to offer classes again next school year.

Jacobs said the board agreed to the request if enrollment at the school will remain fairly static.

"If they have eight or 10 come up here then the board may want to reconsider and possibly bring them all in here," Jacobs said.

He said current enrollment at the small school is 46 students in the first six grades. Three teachers are employed at the Canyon district to teach at Umbarger School.

A survey of parents in Umbarger will be made this spring to determine the approximate enrollment at

FROM THE CANYON RIM

From the road it looks like the fuss at the police station is mostly quibbling.

Since the story broke last week it has been marked with accusation and counter accusation. Nothing has been brought to light so far on either side that is really serious.

Now that it has gone this far I think the city commission certainly should study the matter and at least reassure the public.

The police department, even one as small as Canyon's, is a semi-military organization. Good discipline is desirable as a matter of course. In times of emergency it is mandatory.

A group of friends simply cannot police a city the size of Canyon. Canyon's police department must have a chief who is in firm control.

Perhaps it would be well if the commission through the city manager and the chief of police would lay down certain rules and guidelines by which the department is to be governed.

District Attorney George Dowlen and his assistant, Mike Hinton, did their homework on the Bridges case.

I have watched Dowlen since he was appointed to serve out the unexpired term of the late T. G. Hull, Jr., and this undoubtedly was his finest effort.

He and Hinton both did themselves proud, exhibiting an alertness and a willingness to do battle that must have been gratifying to those who want to see stern law enforcement in Randall County.

The prosecution refused an offer by Richard Dean Bridges to plead out for 10 years and I think they should have. Not only did they get a stiffer sentence but were able to place the moral abandon of narcotics pushers and users on public display.

The spectacle of long-haired, unkempt friends of the defendant making the peace sign and heckling the district attorney from a front bench as he made his summation to the juury.

Two hairy youths, themselves under indictment,, attempting to smear the good name of a courageous little girl who risked her life for the safety of your children.

And then Dowlen's quote from Steppenwolf: "The pusher don't care whether you live or die!"

All this for the edification of Texans whom Richard Dean Bridges says will one day relent and make marijuana legal.

I say: "Never!"

The House Select Committee on Crime Tuesday released a report which said that marijuana is a dangerous drug and might produce brain damage.

I don't think this is anything the people of Texas want to legalize.

Controversial figures are running in both the Republican and Democratic primaries this time and Randall County voters with no strong party ties may be in a quandry as to which primary to vote in because of it.

Senator Ralph Yarborough evokes strong feelings. Some will want to vote in the Democratic primary just to vote either for or against him.

Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud has about the same effect on voters. There will be some coin flipping on which primary to vote in when balloting time rolls around.

Rabid Skunk Is Diagnosed

Dr. J.L. Markham, local veterinarian, reported Tuesday that rabies has been discovered in a dead skunk brought to his office from a resident east of Happy.

The doctor said the skunk was brought to his office last Tuesday. Portions of the animal were sent to Austin for testing and the results indicated the skunk was rabid.

The rabies report was the first of the spring for the county area.

Dr. Markham said it was the first case of rabies reported in the southeastern portion of the county in several years.

Tracksters To Enter HPI Meet

West Texas State University's track team is entered in the Howard Payne Invitational Saturday in Brownwood.

Coach Bob Kitchens' athletes earned two six-place finishes last week in the Texas Relays at Austin.

Rocky Thompson placed sixth in the 100-yard dash on Saturday with a 10-flat clocking. He had run 9.8 in the preliminaries Friday and 9.5 in the semi-finals that day to reach the finals.

"Rocky also ran two heats of the 880-yard relay Friday and that drained off his strength," said Kitchens. The Buffalo 880-yard relay team of Gary Goodin, Rocky Meadors, Steve Cone and Thompson ran 1:27.0 in the preliminaries and matched that time in the finals.

The preliminaries on the 880-yard relay were especially hard on Thompson. Zen Reeves, the Texas Tech anchor man, received the stick with a lead on West Texas.

"Coach Kitchens had told me to just glide on in if we were out of the race," said Thompson. "I saw we were within striking distance of Tech when Zane got the stick no more than two strides in front of me, so I turned it on and nipped him at the tape for fourth place."

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

It is becoming increasingly apparent that the current rebellion against authority, as represented by parents, teachers, police, and the courts, is not confined to delinquent children, the dissident minority, and the criminal element. The adult majority is rebelling too. Our governments, from local to national, could do well to investigate the causes.

Last week, a jury in the Fifth District Court at Roswell, N. M., found a defendant "not guilty" of stealing a car that he admitted he had stolen. Judge George L. Reese, Jr., severly reprimanded the jury, dismissed the panel, and remanded the defendant to the custody of the sheriff.

The average American will not voluntarily aid the police or courts in any kind of controversy. And it is most difficult to persuade a jury to return a "guilty" verdict regardless of the seriousness of the crime or the evidence of guilt.

Speed is second only to alcohol as a killer on highways. Yet radar equipment has had to be completely revised because motorists consistently warn speeders of the presence of a radar trap.

Americans have not always been antagonistic to law. Vigilantes policed the frontier, and the jury system has been the most powerful force in maintaining law and order since the birth of our nation.

What has happened to America?

Several years ago, in a rural hamlet in Hale County, a young couple, with a tiny baby, was abandoned by a harvest crew. The migrants were penniless, and had no possessions except the clothes they were wearing. A local merchant asked a farmer and his wife--both past 75 years old--to take the family in for the night.

The farmer needed harvest help, so he gave the family board and lodging, and his wife kept the baby while the parents worked in the field.

The young couple received good wages for their labor; they bought a car, clothes, and other necessities. Then just before the harvest was over, they disappeared in the night. They took everything the farmer had of value that they could carry. They stole his guns, radio, family heirlooms, and even the wheels off his car.

The ungrateful thieves were apprehended in Corpus Christi; a major portion of the loot was found in their car. After the man was lodged in the county jail, a deputy took the wife and baby out to the farmer's home, and asked him to keep them "until the husband gets out of jail," or else "drop the charges."

Naturally, the farmer refused to do either. He heard no more about the case, nor did he ever recover his stolen property. But his greatest loss was his faith in his fellowman, and respect for the court that condoned the injustice he suffered.

In January, 1970, an out-of-town motorist stopped at a traffic light beside a city bus in Amarillo. When the light turned green, the bus made a fast, sharp right turn, smashed the side of the parked car, and continued on its way.

The motorist overtook the bus, and called police. The motorist was given the ticket! He was charged with negligence, failure to apply his brakes, lack of control of his vehicle, and improper lookout to avoid an accident. All that reckless driving while he was parked!

The visiting motorist was advised that it would be cheaper to pay the $15 fine than to return to the city to protest the ticket. He chose the expensive route.

At the trial, the prosecutor was none too subtle in his frequent reminders to the jury that the out-of-town motorist was driving a 1970 luxury sedan, and the poor bus driver was retired on social security. The jury was not impressed. The verdict was "not guilty."

It is almost impossible to find an honest citizen who has had experience in any court who has not lost all respect for our judicial system. Judges appear to have no interest in justice, only technicalities. Prosecutors are interested only in convictions. Juries seem to forget they are part of the court, and react as outraged citizens by bringing in only acquittals.

We are a nation of laws; we cannot survive without them. But if we are to have a revival of respect for law and order, it must begin with the constituted authorities dispensing justice. Respect cannot be paid until it has been earned.

Baseballers To Play Here On Weekend

After pulling off the biggest baseball victory in the school's history Friday afternoon, the West Texas State Buffaloes take off until the weekend and then meet toughie New Mexico Highlands in four games.

Highlands has been ranked among the nation'sbetter NAIA teams for several seasons and are again ranked high.

The Buffaloes tallied three runs in the eighth inning to edge the University of Tulsa, the nation's fifth ranked collegiate team, Friday afternoon.

Bob Sine limited the Tulsa club to five hits in hurling the 3-2 win. The Buffaloes collected five hits off Tulsa's Cliff Butcher, who earned second team All-American honors last year as Tulsa placed second in the College World Series.

Coach Bob Sloan's baseballers took Saturday off because of cold and wet weather, but returned to practice Monday.

Highlands will be here Friday and Saturday for doubleheaders each day. All four games are set for seven innings. The first game each day starts at 1 p.m. and the second game will follow the first by 20 minutes.

Man Indicted On Murder Charges

Mike Horodnykyi, 46, formerly of Umbarger, was indicted on two counts of murder with malice by the Randall County Grand Jury Wednesday.

He is charged in the deaths of two Amarillo sisters who were felled by gunshot Monday.

Dead are Mrs. H.B. Samuel, 63, of 506 W. 38th, and her sister, Mrs. W.V. Dell, 69, of 1908 S. Harrison.

In serious condition Wednesday in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo was Horodnykyi, 46. Horodnykyi was found on the living room floor of the Samuel home by Amarillo police.

Horodnykyi had been shot once in the face with what officers believed to be a 20 gauge shotgun.

Randall County District Attorney George Dowlen said Mrs. Dell and Mrs. Samuel suffered multiple gunshot wounds. They were found in the living room area of the home.

Dowlen said police were summoned to the Samuel home about 7:15 p.m. when a call was received from a man who said "I'm dying, please help me." He said the caller gave the Samuel home address.

Officers believe a .38 caliber pistol was used in the deaths of the two sisters. They found such a pistol in a trash can at the rear of the home, Dowlen said.

FHA Week Underway

Canyon High School chapter of the Future Homemakers of America are this week observing national FHA Week with various programs and meetings, according to Debbie White, president.

Tuesday a regular chapter meeting was held in the homemaking department after school where Bonnie Harmon and Mrs. B.M. Daniels of the Village of Hope in Amarillo were guest speakers.

Wednesday the local chapter sponsored "teacher appreciation day" at the school and Thursday evening they will serve at the banquet of the Future Farmers of America.

On Friday the chapter will sponsor a flag raising ceremony in front of the school building at 8:15 a.m. The flag will be raised by the ROTC department of West Texas State University.

Concluding the week will be church for each FHA member on Sunday. After church services the girls plan to eat out together.

The chapter has 37 members.

Residence Halls Host Children For Picnic

About 50 children from the Presbyterian Children's Home in Amarillo were given an inside picnic by residents of Jarrett and Brown halls at West Texas State University last Saturday.

The picnic for the children, who ranged in ages from 4-12, was scheduled to take place in Palo Duro Canyon, but due to inclement weather, it was moved to Jarrett Hall.

Hot dogs and soft drinks were prepared for the visitors by the halls' residents.

The two halls annually sponsor a picnic for the children.

4 Students To Compete In Show

Four Canyon students will represent Randall County Saturday at a District 4-H food show to be held at Bonham Junior High School in Amarillo.

The students won their divisions last Saturday during a county 4-H food show here.

Blue ribbon winners were Larry Hales, bread and cereal; Penny Crowley, milk; Joelyn Crowley, fruit and vegetable; and Millie Hales, bread and cereal.

Other blue ribbon winners were Debbie Hales, fruit and vegetable; Becky Williams, fruit and vegetable; and Patty Crowley, meats.

Each winner received a blue ribbon for a 90-100 point score based on their exhibit and records.

Senior winners in the district food show Saturday will compete for state honors.

Winners in several categories of the 4-H food show held Saturday here were, left to right, Larry Hales, bread and cereal; Penny Crowley, milk; above, Joelyn Crowley, fruit and vegetable; and Millie Hales, bread and cereal.

Bea Thompson On Honor Roll

Beatrice L. Thompson of 11 Southridge Drive in Canyon has been named to the Honor Roll at Southern Methodist University.

The annual honor list cites students with high grade-point averages.

Speakers Added For Teach-in Planning continues for an environmental teach-in on the West Texas State University campus April 20-25 as more speakers and films have been added to the program.

John Greene, who says he is the chairman of an informal group planning the teach-in, said in preparation for the week, several students will work throughout the city gathering litter. He said this clean-up campaign will be the only dramatization of the pollution problem scheduled for the teach-in.

Charles Bardon of the Texas Air Pollution Control Board will be a main speaker April 20 on the campus. Bardon is tentatively set to speak at 1 p.m.

Just one other speaker is under consideration by the group. Jack Crabtree, a biologist here, will be asked to speak on pollution at Buffalo Lake.

Many films have been gathered by the group.

Greene said one six-film series on pollution will be shown throughout the week, perhaps in the student union building.

Another film, "So Little Time," produced by the National Park Service, will also be shown throughout the week.

A documentary film by CBS-News, "The Poisoned Air," will delve into the problems of air pollution in this country and in the world. The film has been reserved for April 20 and 21 of the week.

"Torrey Canyon," a film which shows the results of a sinking of a giant tank vessel, will be shown also.

In addition to the films and speakers, displays will be placed on campus emphasizing pollution problems.

Greene said the teach-in will be educational rather than dramatic, as such environmental teach-ins have been at other campuses.

Evangelist For K Club

Rev. Doug DuBose of the First Baptist Church in Muleshoe will be guest speaker for the Canyon Kiwanis Club noon meeting Friday in American Legion Hall.

Rev. DuBose is in Canyon this week conducting revival services for Calvary Baptist Church.

Mrs. W.A. Branum, club president, was in charge of the after-luncheon meeting as members opened with the club prayer and answered roll call with "how I would like to add color to my home." Mrs. Lewis Tucek gave the council report reminding members of the May Day luncheon and the club elected Mrs. Lewis Harvey as their woman of the year.

The business meeting was concluded with the third program in the current color series being taught by Becky Hall, agent.

Present from the club were Mesdames J.G. Voelm, Lewis Tucek, Ralph Ruthart, Fred Richard, Ray Metcalf, R.O. McKay, Lewis Harvey, Paul Glovier, Paul Cornett, R.A. Burrus, Bradley Burrus, W. A. Branum, Ed Bourn, and Dick Barrett.

LaGrone Funeral Chapel

Dear friends,

The funeral director of today regards the funeral as essentially a religious function. With the clergyman, he must work as a team to meet the physical, spiritual and emotional needs of persons at the time of death. As a director of funerals, he is dedicated to honor the trust placed in him and his staff at this saddened time in the life of any family.

Respectfully,

Jerry N. LaGrone

Impala '400' Sale.

You save when you buy it. You save when you drive it.

When you buy any Impala V8 model during our "400" Sale, here's how you can get two popular extras at no extra charge.

You order your Impala equipped with a Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, radio, Comfortilt steering wheel, front and rear bumper guards and white stripe tires. Items you'd probably order anyway.

Then we add our big 400-cubic-inch V8 at 265 hp that runs on regular gas, along with dual exhausts—both at no charge. (The manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal excise tax for the regular fuel 400 V8 and dual exhausts is $93.75.)

But that's only the beginning. Because your Chevrolet dealer is really anxious to deal these days.

And the Impala you're buying, of course, got to be America's No. 1 car, because of all the value features built right in. Features like flush-and-dry rocker panels that fight rust. Inner fenders to protect the outer fenders. Long lasting bias belted ply tires, steel guard beams in every door for added protection, an acrylic lacquer finish over its solid Body by Fisher.

All of which contributes to Impala's traditionally high resale value, too.

You're getting America's No. 1 car on sale. The car more people buy—year after year after year.

How can you beat that?

Buffs In Home Stretch Of Spring Training

With the West Texas State University annual Varsity-Alumni game slated Thursday, April 16, in Buffalo Bowl, the Buffaloes have entered the home stretch of football spring training.

The annual spring game is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Coach Joe Kerbel's Buffaloes go through their final game-like scrimmage prior to the climax of spring drills at 2 p.m. Saturday in Buffalo Bowl.

Kerbel is pleased with the progress of his players during the spring, but the inconsistent weather is blamed for the lack of top physical conditioning.

"We stress both learning and conditioning during the spring and the poor weather has hindered the conditioning," said Kerbel. "Our young men were in top physical condition at the start of the drills, but we have had to take so many days off and spend other days in the gymnasium that we haven't been able to bring the players to that condition peak."

The head Buffalo coach sings the praises of several of his players for their improvement during the spring.

"Ed Holwig has shown an overall improvement at quarterback, but he has really progressed in the two necessary items for a quarterback--quickness of both his hands and his feet," said Kerbel.

"Ed's running of the option, his passing, his ballhandling and his blocking have all improved greatly this spring."

Holwig, the 6-4, 210-pounder from Highspirr Pa., was red-shirted during his sophomore season last fall.

Kerbel's two speed merchants in the backfield--Rocky Thompson and Olan Thompson (no relation)--are in a strong duel for the running back spot, but Olan is also being viewed at flanker.

Olan led the team in pass receiving last year with 22 and was the starting running back most of the year. He rushed for 505 net yards. Rocky ran for 250 net yards.

"Olan gives us a deep pass receiver, but we are still just looking at him at that spot," said Kerbel. "Rocky is coming into his own as a running back."

Both Rocky and Olan can turn 100 yards in less than 10-flat. Rocky has a 9.5 to his credit this spring and Olan has run a 9.7. Rocky has been dividing his time between track and football this spring.

Kerbel is pleased with the improved play of tight end Willie Walker this spring. He also feels the defensive unit will be improved from last fall when the Buffs won six of 10 games.

Admission to the Varsity-Alumni game will be $2 for adults and 50 cents for students, including WTSU students.

Mrs. Vars, who is current president of the Canyon Study Club, was also honored as the "outstanding clubwoman" at the convention representing all junior clubs. She has been active in the local club for four years, two of which she has served as president.

A number of Canyon clubwomen attended the two-day convention which followed the theme "Patterns of Progress". Club representatives from a 20-county area attended the convention where Mrs. B.M. Sims of Wellington, Top of Texas District President, and Mrs. Sandra Ladd, district junior director from Waka, were presiding.

Among awards were the 10 firsts and 11 seconds brought home by the University Study Club; 7 firsts, 3 seconds and a special award for the Canyon Study Club; a first, second and special award for the Heritage Woman's Club; a second for the Woman's Book Club; and a first and two seconds for the Sue Hite Club.

The newly formed Heritage Woman's Club here received a special junior division award for vast charter membership in the public relations department. The club also received a first in fine arts and a second in yearbook.

Canyon Study Club's "Miss Canyon" pageant was the recipient of a special award for public relations, according to Mrs. Vars.

And in the senior club division, University Study Club received a first best for overall reporting, according to Mrs. Sam Jolly, president.

A departmental review of the senior club awards shows the University Study Club with first place certificates in the Texas Heritage department for overall reporting, folklore and historical markers, monuments and buildings; three firsts in the education department for leadership, library service and overall reports; a first in the public affairs department on citizenship; a first in the fine arts department on crafts; a first in the home life department on family economics; and seconds on both the yearbook and president's report.

Also in the senior club division, Woman's Book Club received a second in membership cultivation and the Sue Hite Club of Canyon received a first in legislation, second in yearbook and education department.

Junior club division firsts for the Canyon Study Club were firsts for both their president's oral and written reports; a first in legislation state and national; a first in public relations for radio and television coverage; a first in international clubs, home life and education.

The Heritage Woman's Clubs division awards were a first in fine arts and second in yearbook. The Heritage Woman's Club also won two firsts for an art exhibit arranged by Karen Stephens.

Representing Canyon's five federated clubs at the convention were Mesdames Wayne Wirt, Bob Lindsey, Nolan Henson and Sam Jolly of the University Study Club; Durwood Henderson, Guy Hamblen, Lynn Blewett, Weyman Brown, Dan Vars, Clark Mires, B. MISS RUTH CROSS was guest speaker for the Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women. She is pictured here, at left, along with the new officers elected at the meeting, Mrs. Ernest Carlson, second vice president and Mrs. Ken Baker, right, secretary.

College Student Attitudes Discussed

Miss Ruth Cross spoke to members of the Canyon Branch of the American Association of University Women on Saturday about some of the attitudes of today's college and university students.

Miss Cross retired in 1969 as Dean of Women and Head of the Women's Physical Education Department at West Texas State University.

Miss Cross said "students today are individualistic, demand more permissiveness, and want to have a part in governing the institutions (university.) Across the country, students are being included on university committees that have been made up traditionally of only administrators."

"Since most students today are thinking and reasoning people," Miss Cross said, "administrators generally are willing to include students on committees in areas which can benefit from student participation."

"It is questionable," she added, "whether student participation should be allowed in some specialized areas requiring broad technical knowledge, such as building programs."

According to the classical definition of a university, the challenges are intellectual; that is, no social causes, for instance, could be pursued. That view is changing as the universities become more aware of problems and seek means of solving them.

Until recently universities operated on the thoery of in loco parentis or substitute parent in dealing with its students. However, as going to college began to be thought of as a right rather than a priviledge, the courts ruled that students could be dismissed only after "due process." Briefly, the student must be advised of the reasons and be given a chance to prepare for an orderly hearing which should result in a fair and impartial decision.

"Due process" led to the writing of student behavior codes on many campuses. On the West Texas State University campus, this was effected through joint student-faculty effort with final approval by the administration and the board of regents.

"A few militant students in this country do not wish to negotiate their demands, for their aim is destruction of the government and the university system. Many students are not rebellious but feel a great need for change and improvement. We owe it to the latter students to investigate their ideas," Miss Cross said, " for just as a society cannot remain static, neither can a university."

Mrs. Duane Guy presided over a business session. Two new officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Ernest Carlson, second vice-president and Mrs. Ken Baker, secretary.

Roland Black, manager of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, explained some promotional projects in which the Chamber is engaged.

The group met in the home of Mrs. A.K. Goodman. Cohostesses were Mrs. Frank W. Daugherty, Mrs. D.R. Park, Mrs. Cecil Winn, and Mrs. R.B. Gist.

'Thorpe' Author To Review Own Work Here Monday

"Thorpe" will be reviewed by the author Mary Dutton as the final in a series of book reviews being sponsored by the Canyon Federated Club Council.

The review will be given Monday evening, April 13, at Room 101 University Complex South at West Texas State University beginning at 8 p.m.

Open to the public, admission will be $1.50 per person.

Mrs. Dutton spent ten years in the writing of her book "Thorpe." The book was recently selected to be published in paperback form and has only recently been published in two foreign languages.

A native of Arkansas, Mrs. Dutton was born in El Dorado. She and her husband and three children reside in Borger where she has been a substitute teacher for the past 15 years. She has spent much of her time with the special education classes for the mentally retarded and also worked as a recreation director for the Parks and Recreation Department in Borger.

Mrs. Crews Henry, chairman of the federated club council here, noted that all proceeds from the series of five reviews are going into a special savings account to benefit the Canyon City Library. Thus far in the season approximately $1,000 has been raised by the reviews.

jobs after going to City Manager Northcutt with grievances against Costley.

Costley said he dismissed Harvey and Butcher for disloyalty and for not doing their jobs.

The two discharged officers said they lost their jobs after going to City Manager Northcutt with grievances against Costley.

Harvey said his complaints stemmed from Costley's verbal abuse of himself, Butcher and other members of the department.

Costley has denied the accusations.

In the meantime, according to Chief Costley, two other police officers have resigned.

Larry Lambertson submitted his resignation effective April 18 and Roger Wineinger has resigned effective April 19.

Costley said Stephen Cassada, 23, Amarillo, has been hired as a police patrolman and began work Monday. Cassada attended West Texas State University and worked as a policeman in Tulia before moving to Amarillo where he has been employed by a pharmaceutical firm.

food served at the banquet, which attracted more than 300 persons including Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

"This meal compared to other banquets has got to be 500 per cent worse than the others," he said.

Dr. Willis Harrison said he hoped next year's banquet could be catered.

Vars pointed out the excellent food and facilities provided at banquets in Hereford and Amarillo.

The board noted that the crowded conditions at the banquet were cause for several letters to be written to the chamber.

In reviewing other aspects of the banquet, the board was told by chamber manager Roland Black that the chamber lost $52.92 on the banquet.

In other action, the board approved the appointment of the president of the chamber's women's division to a seat on the board.

Mrs. Edith Nicholas will sit as a board member.

In considering her appointment, the board indicated she may have voting privileges.

The board selected a small decal which will be purchased by the chamber and given member merchants for display.

One hundred and fifty will be purchased initially.

Black handed out small cards to the board members for solicitations in town. The cards are part of a campaign to raise $3,000 for the tourist development committee for three proposed projects.

Black said the committee hopes to raise money to print 10,000 brochures concerning Canyon, to join the Land of Coronado project, which places billboards throughout the Panhandle, and to purchase specially made flags to hang from light poles in Canyon during the showing of the musical-drama "TEXAS."

In final action, the board voted to decline an invitation to membership in the Texas Tourist Council.

Eggers. . .

which indicate his popularity is on the rise at the governor's expense.

"A poll completed two weeks ago, shows Smith with 40 per cent, I have 37 per cent and 23 per cent are undecided," he said. "Last Friday, a story in the Houston Post said it had learned from a reliable source in Austin that Governor Smith has his own poll showing Smith with 38 per cent, Eggers with 38 per cent and the rest undecided."

Eggers made a swing through Canyon in the fall of 1968 and spoke on the West Texas State University campus. Because his speech was political in nature--certain rules restrict political speeches from candidates--the charter of the Young Republicans at WTSU, sponsors of his visit on campus, was revoked.

The candidate said Sunday he was surprised by the action. He said, if elected governor, he will verify the action against the Young Republicans and ask the president of WTSU to clarify the rules governing political speeches by candidates.

When asked whether he feels he is more liberal than Gov. Smith, Eggers pointed to several areas in which he says he is more conservative than Smith.

"I think there are some people who say this (that he is more liberal than Smith) because Gov. Smith does little of anything," Eggers said. "Look at my fiscal policy. It's much more conservative than Gov. Smith's."

Eggers said one of his first acts of office would be the formation of an economy commission--made up of businessmen, professionals and educators--to streamline spending in the state govment.

"I think one of the first things we must do is revamp the means of making a budget," he said. "I've had experience in Washington in the Treasury Department in working on the Treasury budget. I feel I have an expertisse in fiscal matters because of this experience."

Eggers said if elected, he will bring leadership into the state's executive office.

"This is one thing I do not think we have at the present time," he said. "For this reason, we had a special session in 1969. For this reason this spring we had a welfare crisis."

He said because of lack of leadership by Smith, another special session will probably be called next fall.

"And special sessions cost us $15,000 a day," Eggers said.

Switching to the problems faced by small towns in Texas, Eggers said he advocates a plan which would attract industry to smaller non-urban areas.

He proposes establishment of vocational and technical training schools in various areas. The schools would be equipped and established by the state to train workers.

Then, he said, if an industry moved into an area the state could move a technical-vocational training school to the same area to help train workers.

In effect, the plan calls for mobile training schools.

"This is not a wild pipedream I had, but it is a plan which is working successfully in other states," he said.

Pointing to the rising crime rate, Eggers said case loads are bogging down the state's court system.

He said, if elected he would hire experienced legal experts into the state to study the court structure and make proposals on streamlining the court system.

During the 1968 election, Eggers received a million and a quarter votes, the largest total in Texas history for a Republican candidate.

He was named by President Nixon as General Counsel of the Treasury Department, a position he held until early 1970 when he launched his current gubernatorial campaign.

der as an undercover narcotics agent.

She and members of the APD intelligence department had a rendevous with Sheriff L. S. Johnston and she was sworn in as a Randall County deputy at Buffalo Bowl north of Canyon.

She said only members of the intelligence department, the sheriff and two school officials at Tascosa knew of her assignment. She testified of having struck up with a group at Tikko's, a South Amarillo drive-in, and of having been accepted into the group.

Mrs. Cox said she was taught to simulate smoking of marijuana when the reefer or pot pipe was passed around at a teenage party.

She said she met Bridges about two weeks after enrolling in school. She had already heard of him by reputation and had been told that he was a narcotics pusher.

She testified that she first approached him on the subject of narcotics when both attended a Vietnam War Moratorium in Ellwood Park Oct. 15.

She asked him about some marijuana and was told that he didn't have any but that she could get it from another boy.

She said that again on November 24 she asked Bridges if he could tell her how to get some marijuana in Juarez since she had to make a trip to El Paso.

She testified that he told her to cross the border and ask for Ray at the third taxi stand and that for $30 extra he would get it across the border for her.

She said Bridges warned her that women were often cheated by narcotics pushers in Mexico.

Bridges later testified that Mrs. Cox had made a pest of herself about narcotics and that he told her about Ray or Ramon just to get rid of her.

"She must have asked me about narcotics 50 times," he declared from the witness stand.

Mrs. Cox said she approached Bridges at Tikko's Dec. 10 and told him she had a chance to make some money on some marijuana by taking it to Big Spring.

"He asked what I wanted and how he could help me," she testified. She said he also told her he would have to check and see how much he had sold and how much was left on hand.

The next night she said she met Bridges at Tikko's again. This time he was accompanied by Phelps Barfield and Danny Smith, both now under indictment here on narcotics charges.

Mrs. Cox testified that she made a deal with Bridges for six bags of marijuana at $15 a bag and gave him $90. She said the marijuana finally was delivered the night of Dec. 12 by being placed under a U-Haul trailer at a service station on the Canyon expressway.

Mrs. Cox testified that she counted the bags of marijuana and found herself a bag short. Only five had been delivered in a small cardboard box.

She said she took the marijuana home, marked it as evidence and subsequently turned it over to the APD intelligence department.

Dunn testified that the marijuana introduced in evidence was very poor grade. "It must have been prepared by an amateur,"he said. "It's full of dirt, mold and stalks."

The state rested its case at 9:45 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Carnahan's motion for an instructed verdict of not guilty because of entrapment was denied by Judge Dean.

Bridges took the stand as the first witness for the defense and testified that Mrs. Cox had tried to buy drugs from him at least 50 times before Dec. 12.

He quoted Mrs. Cox as saying she was on an allowance from a wealthy grandfather and was about to get into trouble for having spent too much on clothes.

She wanted some marijuana to "front" into Big Spring and make some money so her grandfather wouldn't know of her extravagance.

Bridges testified that several of his friends had told him of having been intimate with Mrs. Cox and that he was just acting as errand boy trying to help out the girl friend of some friends.

"We expected this kind of testimony as far back as September," District Attorney Dowlen later told the jury in his summation.

Bridges testified that at last on Dec. 12 he went to a motel across from Veterans Hospital on Highway 66, got some marijuana from a youth named Ralph and delivered it to Mrs. Cox.

He insisted that he acted only as an errand boy in the matter and did not actually sell the marijuana to Mrs. Cox.

"I don't know what Ralph's last name is," he told the jury. "He goes to school in New Mexico and he brought it home with him."

Bridges later told some court room spectators that if the price was right he could find out Ralph's last name and "produce him by night."

Bridges testified under direct examination that several of his friends told him of being intimate with Mrs. Cox. Under hammering by Hinton he admitted that he had never been intimate with the undercover agent and had no personal knowledge that any of the boys he mentioned had.

Tony Thomas and Joe Jeffroy testified of sexual misconduct with Mrs. Cox. Thomas is under indictment on narcotics charges and was arrested in the same raid in which Bridges was taken into custody.

Two other young men, Jackie Williams and Michael Oberski, were placed on the witness stand. Williams was excused when he testified that he didn't know anything about Mrs. Cox sexual activities and Oberski when he said he'd never talked about things he had done with Mrs. Cox.

Williams faces counts of possession and sale of marijuana in Randall County and was arrested Tuesday afternoon on bond forfeiture.

Back on the witness stand, Mrs. Cox flatly denied ever having had any illicit relations with the young men mentioned. She testified that she had an operation just before coming to Amarillo which made it impossible for her to have sex relations until after Jan.1.

Dowlen unloosed the bomb when he called hulking Gary Hester to the stand Tuesday afternoon.

Hester, himself under indictment for selling marijuana to Mrs. Cox, testified of having pushed drugs for Dean Bridges. He also testified that Tony Thomas had teamed up with Bridges to sell LSD.

"I'd pick up the narcotics and sell them," Hester testified. "I'd keep the money until Dean would ask me for it. I'd give it to him and he'd let me have what he wanted me to have."

Hester who now works as a mechanic said he first hit on the idea of selling drugs as a means to make money. He said Bridges and Thomas told him what to charge for the drugs he sold.

Under cross examination by Carnahan, Hester denied having made a deal for leniency in return for his testimony.

In their summations to the jury Hinton and Dowlen praised Mrs. Cox for doing her duty in helping to ferret out drug pushers in Randall County.

"She was not instructed to seek out Dean Bridges," declared Hinton. "Dean Bridges was familiar with the narcotics flow in this area. Dean Bridges had a reputation as a pusher.

"The officers have done all they can, Mrs. Cox has done all she can, I have done all I can, Mr. Dowlen has done all he can and now it is up to you as to whether we can have law enforcement in Randall County."

Carnahan hammered at the entrapment angle likening the Bridges case to the Sampson and Delilah story from the Bible.

"I have little patience with a spy,"he said. "Was it a sale or was it entrapment?"

Dowlen accused the defense of throwing up smoke screens.

"You can control what happens in Randall County, Texas," he told the jury. "Do you want to let a narcotics pusher in this county go free?"

In his talk to the jury before it decided on punishment, Carnahan in subdued tones noted that many people advocate the legalizing of marijuana.

"You're not going to stop it by punishing Dean Bridges," he declared. "You've got to decide how you can save a boy. In Huntsville he will be making license plates and picking cotton. He will be in with murderers and rapists."

In mounting anger Hinton addressed the jury.

"If you slap this man on the hand with probation, you say to every pusher, 'you can come to Randall County,' " he declared.

"The pusher don't care if you live or die," Dowlen quoted from a song by Steppenwolf as he concluded.

"Make the punishment fit the crime...enough to deter other people from doing the same thing," he admonished.

late Tuesday, said "I would like to thank the people for their confidence and support. I'm so pleased by the large turnout. It shows an interest in Canyon and its growth and development."

Warren said he feels the election for mayor was very close and that he is pleased by the large voter turnout.

"I'm gratified the people have seen to re-elect me to a second term," Christopher said on learning of his election. "I will try to do my best to justify the vote in doing the best for the city of Canyon and its citizens."

Fulton expressed similar sentiments and said he will continue to attempt to provide "the best leadership I know how."

Schaeffer thanked those who supported his campaign and asked them to support the duly elected city government now.

Kiser said the voters have spoken and the vote was the will of the people.

engineer in consultation with the commissioners court in the formation of succeeding Farm to Market programs, with the anticipation that at some future date it may be possible to include this extension in a Farm to Market program," the letter says.

Smith said when funds become available through the state legislature for farm to market projects, he will meet with the county commissioners to discuss construction of the east road extension.

Funding for such a road would have to come through the farm to market program.

Virgil Henson, financial vice president of West Texas State University, presented Randall County's request to the highway commission April 1.

News Brief

City commissioners voted Tuesday night to finance the levelling and filling of an area near the city sewer plant for use as a baseball diamond.

During the special session, George Ritter said dirt could be moved to the area and the area filled at a cost of between $500 and $800.

Pending final financial arrangements the project was approved.
